- Comfortable, wipeable changing pad
- Warmer to relax baby during diaper changes
- Soothing white noise machine to reduce stress and promote calm
- Soft nightlight to keep baby sleepy during nighttime changes
- Accurate scale for real-time weight monitoring up to 50lbs
- Intuitive touchpad for tracking weight, changes, feeding, sleep patterns, and more
- Paired companion app to track baby's growth trajectory
- In-app AI assistant for tailored answers to baby-related questions

The Woddle Baby companion app receives and tracks baby's weight, feeding, diaper change, and sleep pattern entries from the pad, helping parents capture and monitor important developmental information in one place. Parents can also access the World Health Organization's growth chart on the app to benchmark their child's progress. Easily shareable with parenting partners and caregivers, the app includes an AI Parent Coach that provides tailored advice and answers to parenting questions.

This innovation in baby wellness was developed by some of the brightest minds in technology, engineering, and medicine, including Woddle founder and CEO, Shaker Rawan. Driven by his personal parenting experiences and a fruitless search for answers to his concerns over his own child's growth, Rawan developed a solution that resonates with parents looking to easily and consistently track their baby's growth.

Says Rawan, "The Woddle was born of necessity! Our newborn struggled with feeding and sleeping and seemed to be growing more slowly than we expected. We searched for an accurate and convenient way to track his growth–and ease our minds–to no avail. So, we decided to design the solution we needed. Thanks to some of the top designers, engineers, and programmers around, Woddle provides the data, tracking, answers, and comfort new parents so desperately need."

Best of all, Woddle is designed to get smarter over time, with automatic software updates to the changing pad and AI enhancements. Woddle's roadmap includes integration into health systems, allowing parents to share their baby's vitals with their doctors. Their patented AI technology will allow parents to proactively monitor for infant health risks in the future.

About Woddle

We at Woddle are passionate about identifying and providing solutions to the problems surrounding child-care, especially as it relates to babies. One of the world's most experienced technical leaders, Woddle founder and CEO Shaker Rawan led Google's Android initiatives for the 2B+ users worldwide and built Lumin's banking platform that serves 2M active users monthly. His extensive experience developing innovative products, building ecosystems, and scaling adoption drove the development of Woddle's Smart Changing Pad.

Smart, comfortable, safe, and hygienic, the BPA-free Woddle is available for purchase now at www.WoddleBaby.com.

Firewood and Christmas Potatoes

The hardest times can teach the greatest lessons.

During the 1930s, eight-year-old, Delia, along with her four siblings and mother, leave the Dust Bowl of Oklahoma. Taking only a few belongings and using the last of the money to buy a two-headed axe, Delia's mother travels to California to find work in the agricultural fields-tomatoes, grapes, cotton-anything that would support her family during the Great Depression. While confronting severe poverty, young Delia brings to life her mother's morals: hard work, sharing, and the universal need to be loved.

Firewood and Christmas Potatoes is based on true events and will take the young reader to a time when approximately three million Americans (including children) were once treated harshly as they journeyed to a different state to begin a new life. Children will experience the life of a child similar in age, who encountered challenges and embraced hardship by allowing their heart to love all.

Firewood and Christmas Potatoes is a heartwarming story that will become a family favorite during the holiday season.

The Night Sky Lined with Silver

In the blustery winter of 1938, the Bieman Buddies' sledding adventure abruptly ends, due to a horrible storm. They huddle in the train station with Major Morris, the local wartime hero, and his golden retriever, Honey. Uncle Morrie captivates the children with one more engaging life story before they rush home to escape the winter wipeout.

Eliot's father, Adam Bieman, has become the town doctor, but Eliot is a boy who hates to take chances. When Honey drops his master's hat by their back door and bolts off barking, Eliot and his younger sister, Abbie, realize Uncle Morrie is missing. Yet the rescue team cannot look for him in the treacherous snowy conditions.

The Bieman Buddies pray for their own Hanukkah miracle. At first light, the villagers join in the intense search, including Eliot's uncle, whose family recently arrived from Germany after Kristallnacht, the "Night of Broken Glass." Eliot leads the rescue effort and discovers that his sister becomes his best ally. What Doc Bieman reveals will shock everyone to the core.

This charming American tale references the winter hotel business in the Catskill Mountains and captures the essence of Hanukkah, a story of miracles and survival. Through the beautiful descriptions and extraordinary illustrations, Eliot and Abbie will tug at your heartstrings.

Charmdana Dog Bandana and Wag-Witty Charms

My daughter Katie and I launched this pet business called WagAround Town in 2023 inspired by our own dogs. We wanted to provide innovative, eco-friendly and stylish accessories for dogs. We created this Croc-style bandana for dogs out of 100% natural rubber.

The Charmdana is NOT your ordinary bandana. It comes in 6 colors and three adjustable sizes so it's comfortable and gives a secure fit for pets of all sizes. The natural rubber material is lightweight, durable, waterproof and has a textured back for ventilation for all day wear. It's built to withstand the wildest of zoomies, the muddiest of hikes, and the messiest of playdates. Best of all it's easy to clean with just soap and water so you can easily rinse it off at the beach or dog park.

Accompanying the bandanas are the Wag Witty Charms, which is a collection of playful and witty charms with sayings from the dog's perspective. They offer endless possibilities for customization and pet owners can mix and match charms to create unique combinations that reflect their pet's personality, interests, or special event. Whether it's a playful "It's a Ruff Life," "It's Treat O'Clock Somewhere," or "Just Another Day at the Pawfice," the charms fit any occasion. Owners can also mix and match with any universal shoe charms.

While unveiling our products at the Global Pet Expo in Orlando, Fla. March 2024, the international pet trade show, WagAround Town received a top award, third place in the highly competitive New Dog Product Category. Additionally, we were honored with the prestigious Best New Product Award by Blog Paws, the national pet influencer association.

We also feel our product is unique because it enhances the human-canine bond. Dog owners can choose charms that fit their dog's personality and attitude, which in turn gives the owner an emotional bond when spending time with their dog. Whether your dog is "So Spoiled", a "Wiggle Butt", or wants to tell you to "Talk to the Paw" or "Fetch it Yourself" it will bring a smile or a giggle to brighten your day.

Dogs Helping Dogs!

For every 5 mats sold we will donate 1 travel mat to a service dog!

The Night Hunter Murder Mystery Party Game from University Games

University Games brings the story of The Night Hunter to life in its latest and most sophisticated murder mystery party game. To catch The Night Hunter, four separate game-solving chapters require players to solve five distinct and seemingly unrelated murders. The game is an excellent gift for fans of crime dramas, unsolved mysteries and problem solving challenges. The Night Hunter takes 3-4 hours to play and employs innovative online hints and solutions that can help detectives throughout the game.

As the story goes: After confessing to a series of disturbing, animalistic murders, “The Night Hunter” was sentenced to life in prison. The public breathed a sigh of relief, thinking The Night Hunter’s reign of terror was over…that is, until a murder with similarities previously not released to the public occurs over 25 years later. Is it a copycat? Or is the wrong person behind bars? Play as an agent hired by The Bureau as you explore over 100 unique pieces of evidence to learn about The Night Hunter’s past and stop another murder from happening in the present. University Games has been the leader in murder-based games for the last four decades since launching the Murder Mystery Party brand in 1985.

Nick Jonas' LINKEE

(Big Potato Games)

Nick Jonas' LINKEE (hands down his favorite game!) is the quick and easy, yell-out-the-link trivia game anyone can play. Nick played this game on holiday and teamed up with Big Potato Games to bring this quick-witted British export to the U.S.A.

Split into teams and work together to decipher the link between four quiz questions! The Question Master (QM) reads each question aloud while you secretly write down the answers. Be the first team to figure out the link or "LINKEE" between them and shout "LINKEE!" to make your guess.

So, if the answers are "cheese" "waffle" "curly" and "French" the LINKEE is . . ."Fries!"
Need a hint? The QM will read a clue, in this case, "potato sticks."

Get the LINKEE right and win that card! Each card has a letter on the back to help you spell L-I-N-K-E-E. Shout the wrong answer, and your team is out until the next round.

How to Win: Be the first to spell out LINKEE! Ages: 12+; Players: 2+

HUE Animation Studio

HUE Animation Studio is a starter kit for budding movie makers aged 7-13. It includes HUE Animation, easy-to-use stop-motion software, HUE HD USB camera (with built-in microphone) and a 60 page book full of tips and ideas.

This fantastic value, highly creative and educational toy will bring hours of pleasure to young film directors who with the click of a button can animate anything from a favourite toy, LEGO figures, clay creations or 2D drawings.

HUE Animation Studio has been designed by teachers for children aged 7-13. The kit includes everything that you need to create your own stop motion animation and time-lapse videos:

- The HUE HD camera, a flexible plug and play USB camera with built-in microphone.
- A single user license of the fully-featured HUE Animation software for Windows and macOS with its intuitive and easy to use customer interface.
- The HUE Book of Animation with step-by-step instructions for creating 20 hilarious stop motion videos and ideas for even more.
- Online resources such as sound effects and backdrops.

Making movies is a creative, educational and fun-filled activity that everyone can participate in, whether it is for use at home or for school projects. Simply plug the camera into your laptop, install the software and you're ready to go.

Simple icons and navigation make it easy for kids to film scenes and edit videos. They can slow down or speed up delivery of frames, duplicate frames to lengthen scenes and add music or audio recordings to their video.

By having children construct, explain and create videos, they become authors and producers of their own knowledge and they develop communication, organizational and team-work skills through play.

Stop motion animation is a gender-neutral activity equally enjoyed by both boys and girls and it's great for spending time together and developing different skills without even realizing it.

Even the youngest of animators can have fun making and moving their characters. Older children will enjoy imagining the storyline, writing the script and recording the voice-overs, whilst the 'professionals' can excel at deciding on camera angles, positioning the characters and creating or importing sound effects. Any actors in the group will love getting into character for the voiceovers and everyone can enjoy watching the finished film again and again.

Kids catch on very quickly and can become competent animators in no time at all. They'll soon be producing their own films and moving onto the more advanced features of the software such as using chroma key, adding credits and changing backgrounds. As with any skill, practice makes perfect and each new production will improve on the last.

"Becoming Jesse — Celebrating the Everyday Magic of Childhood" — A Family Classic Novel

In 1843 Charles Dickens read a parliamentary report on the hideous working conditions for children. He intended to write a scathing response, but he had a better idea: to write a story – A Christmas Carol – that would change society for the better.

It's time. For a new story. A story to change our upside-down society for the better. A story to beguile parents and children to put down their cell phones, turn off their screens and open a book. Together. Families are yearning for their Light . . . for a beautiful, positive story that unfurls giggle-snickens of laughter, generates dialogue for a better world, models love-adore lessons of the heart, teaches life skills, and brings b'jeekers of joy and surprise to children and families. A story that begs to be read to the last page – the last word.

Jesse O'Neil is an orphan boy of comic charm and soul-igniting wonder. He is raised in 1950s New York City, by his entertaining young uncle, Conor, who is studying to be an actor, and his love-adore grandmother, Dearie, who owns her own theater. Therein, a rollicking production of A Christmas Carol takes root, with powerful Light lessons of courage, grace and laughter, of joyfulness, good cheer and appreciation for those you love most.

Amid all this, at age six, Jesse discovers that he has a 'disappeared' grandmother, and he springs into his very own quest to find her. But first, he must puzzle out the web of riddles his mysterious mother has left behind. And brillish Jesse eats puzzles for breakfast! Jesse's world reaches across generations and cultures, swirling with music, classic literature, gypsy storytelling and most exceptionally, theater. As the 'Spirit of Christmas Past', Jesse shines his magic – his Light – touching all those around him, most especially, himself.

We all want our magic back. We want to share it with our children and grandchildren. Here it is. Waiting for you in a new timeless Christmas story, proving over and over that Christmas is actually not a time, nor a season, but a state of mind that can celebrate our everyday magic all year long. Becoming Jesse is the star atop the tree, igniting the gentle, unlimited power of families reading aloud together.

(The novel includes a Dictionary of Jesse's playful, made-up words.)

"Becoming Jesse — Celebrating the Everyday Magic of Childhood" — A Family Classic Novel

In 1843 Charles Dickens read a parliamentary report on the hideous working conditions for children. He intended to write a scathing response, but he had a better idea: to write a story – A Christmas Carol – that would change society for the better.

It's time. For a new story. A story to change our upside-down society for the better. A story to beguile parents and children to put down their cell phones, turn off their screens and open a book. Together. Families are yearning for their Light . . . for a beautiful, positive story that unfurls giggle-snickens of laughter, generates dialogue for a better world, models love-adore lessons of the heart, teaches life skills, and brings b'jeekers of joy and surprise to children and families. A story that begs to be read to the last page – the last word.

Jesse O'Neil is an orphan boy of comic charm and soul-igniting wonder. He is raised in 1950s New York City, by his entertaining young uncle, Conor, who is studying to be an actor, and his love-adore grandmother, Dearie, who owns her own theater. Therein, a rollicking production of A Christmas Carol takes root, with powerful Light lessons of courage, grace and laughter, of joyfulness, good cheer and appreciation for those you love most.

Amid all this, at age six, Jesse discovers that he has a 'disappeared' grandmother, and he springs into his very own quest to find her. But first, he must puzzle out the web of riddles his mysterious mother has left behind. And brillish Jesse eats puzzles for breakfast! Jesse's world reaches across generations and cultures, swirling with music, classic literature, gypsy storytelling and most exceptionally, theater. As the 'Spirit of Christmas Past,' Jesse shines his magic – his Light – touching all those around him, most especially, himself.

We all want our magic back. We want to share it with our children and grandchildren. Here it is. Waiting for you in a new timeless Christmas story, proving over and over that Christmas is actually not a time, nor a season, but a state of mind that can celebrate our everyday magic all year long. Becoming Jesse is the star atop the tree, igniting the gentle, unlimited power of families reading aloud together.

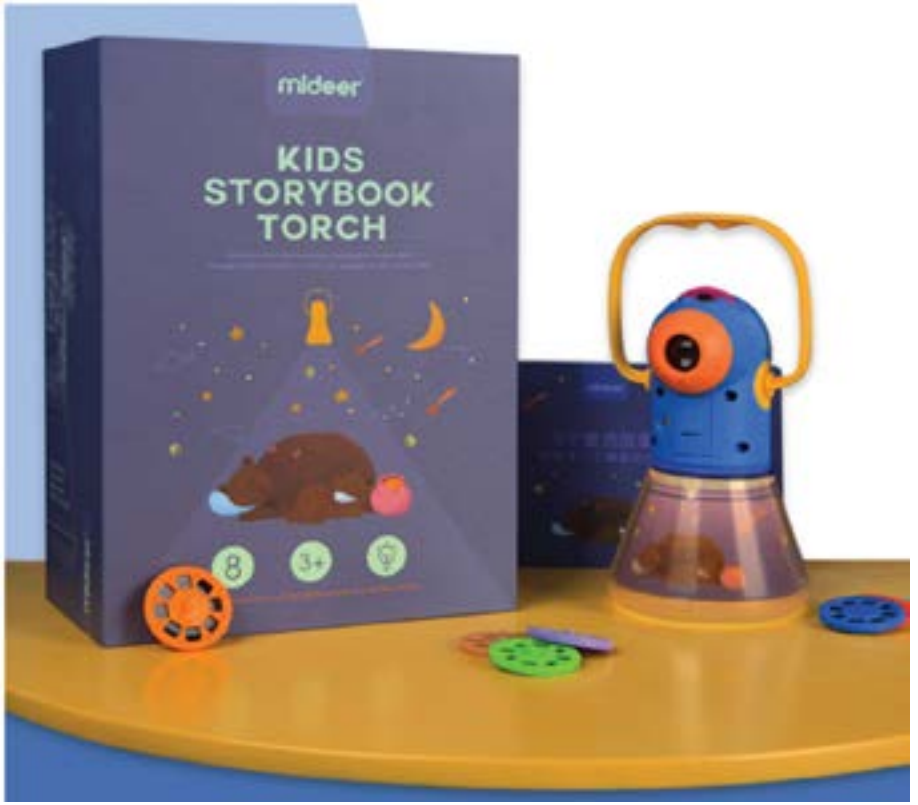

(The novel includes a Dictionary of Jesse's playful, made-up words.)

Don't Let Daylight Savings Time Ruin Your Family's Sleep!

Allay Lamp's Band of Green Light Might Be the Difference your Household Needs

For many families, the time change can make for cranky kids who either can't stay up until bedtime, or are waking too early in the morning.

Whether you hate or love daylight savings, don't let it disrupt your family's life. With a few small adjustments and the help of the revolutionary Allay Lamp, it will feel like normal in no time.

There are many ways to manage the effects of DST, including:

- Adjusting a child's sleep schedule a little bit at a time, in the days leading up to DST. This is effective for babies and small children, to avoid the worst of the effects of a sleep deprived baby.
- Adults can struggle with time changes too, as the average person is already sleep deprived. According to a CDC study, a full one third of American adults are routinely not getting enough sleep.
- Create a healthy sleep environment — for both adults and children — including utilizing light sources such as the Allay Lamp, to ensure that the brain is stimulated as little as possible from light.

This last point is easily the most important: establishing good bedtime habits and a healthy sleep environment are critical. Considering the importance of sleep in restoring the brain and body, it's vital that the bedroom be conducive to maximum relaxation.

A few ways to create a healthy sleep environment include:

- Keep it dark and quiet for sleeping. Black out curtains and no television in the bedroom are a good start!
- Minimize distractions by avoiding screens at night, which also inhibit the brain from relaxing thanks to the blue light rays emitted.
- Control the light wavelengths that are used in the bedroom when not sleeping, by using an Allay Lamp.

In addition, families can enlist the help of the Allay Lamp which helps calm the brain and induce sleep. With the specific and narrow band of green light wavelengths used by the Allay Lamp, the electrical signals sent through the eye to the brain are far smaller and less energizing than standard blue/red light wavelengths. This helps calm the brain so that it is in a better state for rest.

This same principle can also help people who suffer from migraines or chronic headaches. The science behind headaches for most people involves sensitivity to light. Standard lighting is often too much for those who are sensitive and they will spend a lot of time in darker spaces, or behind sunglasses. The narrow wavelength of the green light in Allay Lamps allows those who do suffer from light sensitivity to go about their activities with far fewer headaches.

DST and the effects on sleep are manageable by creating the right space — including Allay Lamps — for rest and relaxation, allowing the body and brain to rejuvenate and restore itself the way it is meant to.

The Allay Lamp might be your family's best strategy for getting your family's sleep schedule back on track. Visit them at https://allaylamp.com. Also available on Amazon.
